

Art gets anchored in Greenwich over holiday weekend

Christina Hennessy

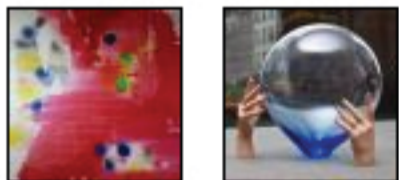

Published 04:39 p.m., Thursday, May 24, 2012

VIEW: LARGER | HIDE

PREV NEXT

The Stamford, Conn.-based Fernando Luis Alvarez Gallery will be among the art exhibitors displaying work for purchase at the upcoming Art Greenwich art fair, which takes place aboard the megayacht SeaFair. It runs from Thursday, May 24, to Monday, May 28, 2012 at the Delamar Greenwich Harbor hotel, 500 Steamboat Road, Greenwich, Conn. Among the pieces will be Carole Feuerman's 'Blue Bubble.' For more informatoin on hours and admission, visit www.expoships.com. Photo: Contributed Photo / CT

The upcoming Memorial Day weekend may conjure up visions of remembrances and parades, family get-togethers and picnics, but this year, you may want to save some time for a little bit of art.

Actually, a whole lot of art.

SeaFair, a 228-foot yacht, will be pulling into Greenwich Harbor this weekend, along with its multiple decks of juried contemporary and modern art from more than 25 international galleries.

Organized by the Bonita Springs, Fla.-based International Fine Art Expositions, the event, known as Art Greenwich, will run Friday, May 25, to Monday, May 28.

Get The Advocate delivered

subscribe

MORE ENTERTAINMENT GALLERIES

Billboard Music Awards

Cannes Film Festival

World's Largest Paint Party